

Overview

NO SHAME Productions is a new enterprise of the Springer Opera House, whose mission is to offer support to local artists who wish to produce an original work in the forms of funding, guidance, and resources to promote fully realized artistic visions.

At our weekly NO SHAME show, artists are provided five minute slots to present original work of all kinds; be it music, poetry, scenes, standup, and more. Many NO SHAME performers have ideas and ambitions that exceed a five-minute slot, but lack the resources to take their work to the next level. NO SHAME Productions will assist artists by providing assistance to take new works from their idea stages through their actual realization.

Potential projects may be of any type, providing they follow the guidelines of eligibility are met. They may be short plays, film, music albums, orchestrations, choreography, visual art installations, etc.

Eligibility guidelines:

- 1) Must be an original work
- 2) Must be from an emerging artist or creator in the local Columbus Metropolitan area
- 3) Must be clearly conceived of and described
- 4) Must be realistically achievable

Projects will be chosen based off resources available, resources needed, and the viability of the project in question.

Monetary funding will be collected at the weekly NO SHAME show in the form of voluntary donations, as well as through an online transaction portal. The kind of funding, guidance, and resources provided will reflect the type of project and the degree of assistance required.

Artists and creators can submit a completed NO SHAME Productions Proposal Form to akaman@springeroperahouse.org or submitted to Alli Kaman in person at the weekly NO SHAME show. Applications will then be reviewed by a panel of local Columbus Arts professionals. Applicants may be required to submit additional information before being chosen. Projects that are chosen will be required to submit a final report upon the completion of their projects.
